Financial responsibility

The financial responsibility for Devuan is taken up by the Dyne.org Foundation and its legal representative dr. Denis Roio.

Dyne.org was established in the year 2000 and registered at the chamber of commerce in Amsterdam in 2005 as a "Stitching" under Dutch law, which equals to non-profit foundation.

Dyne.org's statute includes the mission to research, develop and deploy free and open source software, not just for scientific goals, but also for cultural and educational purposes. Dyne.org historically supports free-speech campaigns, independent media efforts in crisis zones and the development of ancient but working computer musea. Dyne.org has direct ties to the Free Software Foundation and the GNU project.

Budget guidelines

Being a non-profit, Dyne.org does not retain funds, but aims at redistributing them efficiently. Our investment focus for Devuan aims to keep the yearly turnover as low as 10% on incoming funds, with a fixed low reserve of 4000€ to face unpredictable expenses.

To abide with tax legislation in the Netherlands, any refund perceived by volunteers cannot exceed the total amount of 1500€ per year. If there will ever be any reason to pay anyone above such an amount, a contract will be arranged.

The budget for Devuan is reported in € (EUR).
All the amounts reported are netto: processor fees are subtracted.

Thanks everyone for your continued support!
